BEDROOM IN EACH CORNER OF HOUSE

Style of Structure Adapted to Lot of 50 to 75 Feet Frontage.

This house plans of which are shown at the left is designed for those builders who desire colonial character combined with modern conveniences.

It is particularly suitable for a corner lot with a frontage of not less than 50 nor more than 75 feet. The square design has been utilized to provide conveniences for a fairly large family.

Each of the four bedrooms is on a corner, with cross ventilation a feature of all. This arrangement is made possible by the side stairs. There is ample closet space in addition to a single hall upstairs.

A sequestered side porch adds to the attractiveness of the downstairs arrangement. The kitchen is conveniently located opening only into the dining room.

If the dining room faces east to catch the morning sun, the house has added cheerfulness. If the lot is sufficiently wide, a garden may be built in the living room will look out on it. The garage in connection, according to the plans, naturally fits for a short road to the street.

The exterior of brick on the first floor, with white clapboards on the second. The roof may be of any color shingles if desired.

Taking labor and material costs into consideration, estimates on this house range from $4000 to $5000. Costs ultimately will range a few what less in small communities.

CITRUS FRUITS HIT HIGH PRICE MARK

Bananas Are Down to Record Low Mark, Strawberries Are More Plentiful.

Grapefruit and oranges continued to register abnormally high prices during the week in Marion market.

The supply is definitely limited and the prices, which are normally high at this time of year, are being kept high.

Leaf lettuce is now a scarce item on the local market. Much of the crop from Arizona and California but some grades are not available.

Strawberries are gradually becoming a regular item as southern berries slowly move northward. Later this month the crop will get under way in mid-southern states and the prices are expected to drop.

April To Bring Better Weather, Lower Prices

APRIL this year will prove a wonderful month for the local fruit and vegetable market according to Fred Jutz, local veteran of the produce and retail market here.

Tomatoes in many quarters of the market will be relieved when April brings a heavy crop. The whole market will take on an air of spring and high prices will tumble on many popular items.

Strawberries to Drop
The strawberry will come down from its peak in the market. The range of the market will be relieved when April brings a heavy crop. The whole market will take on an air of spring and high prices will tumble on many popular items.

As a selling agent, 50 and 60 cents a quart strawberries will take a permanent drop about the middle of this month when Alabama berries start arriving here. It is not Tennessee and Kentucky will have a hard time in the berry crop which is now confined almost entirely to Florida. Upper Louisiana will arrive during a few berries for local markets.

Of equal interest will be the fruit of the orange and grapefruit market. A new season for oranges is just broken in California and the first crop of Valencia are heading their way into large city markets.

Marion is not interested in them at the present for the prices range between 10 and 15 cents a box. Even though they are about a foot there would be no great demand for them here.

Oranges and grapefruit will be in the market.

WEDDING IN JUNE

MISS MILDRED KIEHL

Just Things
BY EDNA S. DUTTON

THINGS—Wishes
SOME chap in the eastern part of our fair country is taking life easy by wondering where he listeth, or rather where the captain of the boat listeth. He occupies the same cabin on the same boat and rides the briny waves wherever the boat goes. Try to imagine gratifying a little wish like that, when the best break the most of us get is looking at the pictures. Oh, well, it won't be long till the home grown strawberries will be with us and any one with sufficient urge and a nose for location can find a mess of greens most any time now.

Character
DAME FASHION sure handed the sheiks a tough break right now when a top notcher in neuro-muscular activity hands out the dope that the index or low down or whatcha call to miffady's character lies not in her eyes, her smile, her shell pink ear nor her dainty palms, but in her legs. Intelligent girls, if you please, lift their legs higher when walking, according to this authority. Girls who radiate self-confidence indicate it by their free and forceful carriage while Dutch girls have plump legs. German girls have lunar ankle curves and Chinese and Japanese girls have very short shin bones. Self conscious girls have a timid walk and girls with firm knees and stiff legs are of firm dispositions. If a dancing girl's steps are slipshod she is of a careless makeup and large kneecaps indicate a lack of personality. Long knees show a girl is affectionate and round knees are indicative of artistic temperament and talent. Fleaky knees mean their possessor, as a rule is lazy and inclined to put off until tomorrow what should be done today. Hard muscles indicate cruelty and plumpness the contrary. Knees that point outward indicate clumsiness and hollow knees reveal true femininity. It goes without telling that the plump calves and long kneecaps get the call.

Dry Rugs
IF the new rug, which has just become your own by right of payment of the last installment, is beginning to get all furled and balled, now, ten chances to one it's thirsty. At least that is the conclusion some investigators have reached. The air out-of-doors in winter is dryer than in summer, and the dry over-heated air of your home in the winter, dries out the floor coverings. To be sure there's a ketch in it, the promoters of the theory have an ex to avoid, but after all there may be some truth in the matter. Perhaps that is why the flower stand, with its tie upon tier of pomey racks was so cherished by our grandmothers and their grandmothers.

It is your duty to be cheerful; but not your duty to be mindful.
